Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off

I hear that there was a case of censorship involving the Westmont High School newspaper recently. Something about abortion. What's the story?

A Reader

Editor's note: According to Trustee Steve Tedesco, the flap was with some parents' reaction to an article which appeared in the SHIELD about planned parenthood. The School Board received the complaints, Tedesco says, and responded that they didn't feel there was any problem. Tedesco added to feel the article was well done and informative.

I was reading your paper and I notice on the masthead you say you've been "Serving the community since 1895." I wonder if you think running those full page ads for cigarettes is really a service to the community especially since cigarettes have been found to be harmful to health. I notice last week you were also running an ad on a stop smoking campaign. I'm a minister here in town and run a number of stop smoking clinics. Is your paper dependent on these ads?

Wants to Know

Editor's Note: No, the paper is not dependent on these ads. According to Publisher Elaine Levine there are ads, like stories, we don't necessarily support. But we do require that the advertising be truthful. There are some ads we will not accept such as those we feel are misleading or those we have learned use false claims.

I disagree strongly with a statement made by the Planning Director for the City of Campbell last week. In your open space story he says he doesn't feel we need to acquire more open space. In my opinion, this city doesn't have enough recreational facilities now and there are few spots available for the city to set aside. I'd think Campbell would have to be much more vigorous in addressing the issue of open sapce than some of our neighboring cities who still have hundreds of acres of undeveloped land to plan with.

CONSERVATIONIST

I'm calling to complain about the cutback in street sweeping operations in the city. I think it's false economy in the long run with problems of clogged sewers from leaves, street flooding, not to mention the litter problem. We can now boast of having the filthiest streets in the county. Just how much money are we saving?

UPSET

Editor's note: According to Public Works Director Joe Elliott, the savings would be one man's salary if the cutback continues. Savings on water (the original reason for the cutback) has been minimal. A status report on the effects of the cutback will be made to the City Council in December. Residential streets are now swept once every third week (formerly weekly)

Public works projects get the go ahead

Bids on two giant city projects, funded through the Public Works Bill, were awarded Monday night to the Leo Piazza Paving Company and Gadway Construction.

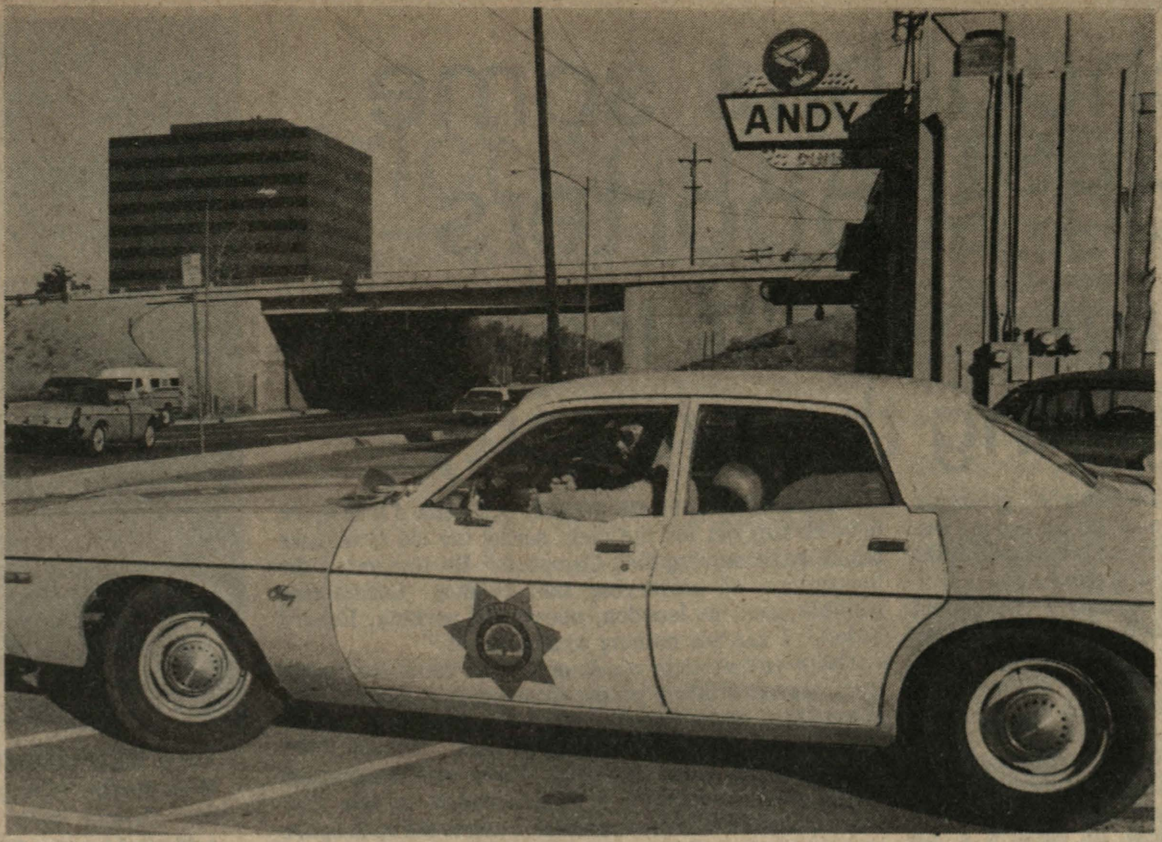
The Piazza bid came in an amazing $150,000 under the engineer's estimate on the street overlay project.

Low bid on the street work project was $406,564, compared to the estimate of $556,128. Other bidders were Raisch ($411,935) and Wattis ($445,486).

Gadway Construction beat out three other companies for the City Hall project on a bid of $171,975. That was $17,336 over the engineer's estimate.

Under regulations set down by the government, successful bidders must have at least 10 per cent of minority owned contractors or sub-contractors working on the project.

Both firms submitted figures showing they meet the requirements.



Notice anything different?

At first glance this looks like a standard traffic watch on Campbell avenue west of the Highway 17 overpass. But there is an important difference. Turn to page 3 for the story and a close-up picture.

$400,000 earmarked

City wants school site

By PAT SAFFORD

CITY OFFICIALS want the old Campbell grammar school site for community use and open space, they declared Monday night, and they're willing to put close to half a million dollars up to prove it.

By a unanimous vote the City Council earmarked $400,000 out of Campbell's federal Housing and Community Development funds for next year to acquire, lease or develop a neighborhood center on the seven plus acre site at Campbell ave. at Winchester.

That action came in response to a strong push by community members and city advisory commission members at the HCD hearings held last week (see related article on page 5).

THE MOTION presented by Councilman Rusty Hammer calls for, "HCD funding to be utilized to acquire, lease or develop a neighborhood youth center, neighborhood senior center, historic preservation, parks and recreation and the preservation of open space on the Campbell grammar school site."

That property is owned by the Campbell Union School District who declared it surplus almost two years ago.

The city's next step is to enter into negotiations with school turstees to acquire or least the site.

According to HCD Coordinator Thom McCue, that project would meet with federal approval if programs or use is targeted to the low or moderate income community. The property is located in the city's core area which has already received HCD funding for housing rehabilitation and street work.

Councilman also received a petition Monday night signed by 754 residents asking that the school property be preserved.

"No project we have ever thought about has such long term residual benefits," Councilman Norm Paul declared Monday night.

"THERE IS one jarring note," Councilman Dean Chamberlin noted. "This property belongs to the grammar school board and as of now we have no assurance it will be available at a price we can pay."

In other action Monday night the Council:

- Held a first reading on a bingo ordinance that would allow groups to hold games in city owned or controlled facilities if they receive prior approval of the City Council.
- Continued to Nov. 28 discussion of the $94,000 in HCD funds earmarked for a downtown semi-mall development.
- Continued to Monday, Nov. 21 the discussion on fire department operations including relocating the Central ave. fire station and costs to construct a third station.

Fall is here and Jesse Flores, 7, crowns his brother, Michael, 8, with a few (hundred) leaves. This year, with the cutback in street sweeping, piles of leaves are bigger than ever in local neighborhoods. And in at least two areas, petitions are being circulated to ask Campbell to go back to its once a week service. With many grates and gutters clogged with leaves, a cloudburst right now could cause flooded streets. The city instituted the sweeping cutback earlier this year to effect some cost savings to the city. A report on that effort is due before city officials in December.

Banquet facility is sold

With the ownership of Sunsweet Hall at The Factory changing hands, the Civic Improvement Commission expressed concern last week over the future of donated historical items used to decorate that banquet facility.

Commissioners have drafted a letter to new owners, Steve Gericke and Dennis Ortiz of Pewter House of Oakland, asking that they consider donating those gifts to the Campbell Museum if they're removed for remodeling.

When that facility opened several years ago community members pitched in to donate box ends from local orchardists and giant reprints of early day pictures for use in the hall.

Some of those box ends are one of a kind, Chairman Jeanette Watson noted last Thursday.

According to Gericke, who was contacted Friday, there are no immediate plans to remodel the facility.

Old school has some staunch supporters

City urged to take lead in acquiring the property

A LOCAL DRIVE TO save the old Campbell grammar school property for community use got off the ground last week just a half block from that surplus school site at the corner of Winchester and Campbell avenue.

At the third Housing and Community Development meeting held at Campbell High School last Wednesday night, the idea of having the city acquire that land was brought up. And, in the next half hour, many of the 29 people in attendance had indicated their support. support.

Ralph Pfirrman, a member of the city Civic Improvement Commission, led off with the idea that the old school could be used for seniors, youth, a park, a community school and for historic preservation.

PLANNING COMMISSIONER Don Hebard was quick to voice support for the idea, saying the old Grammar school building "typifies Campbell." He also cited the importance of preserving that building. Considering possible uses, its location, access and parking, Hebard added, "I can see nothing wrong with it."

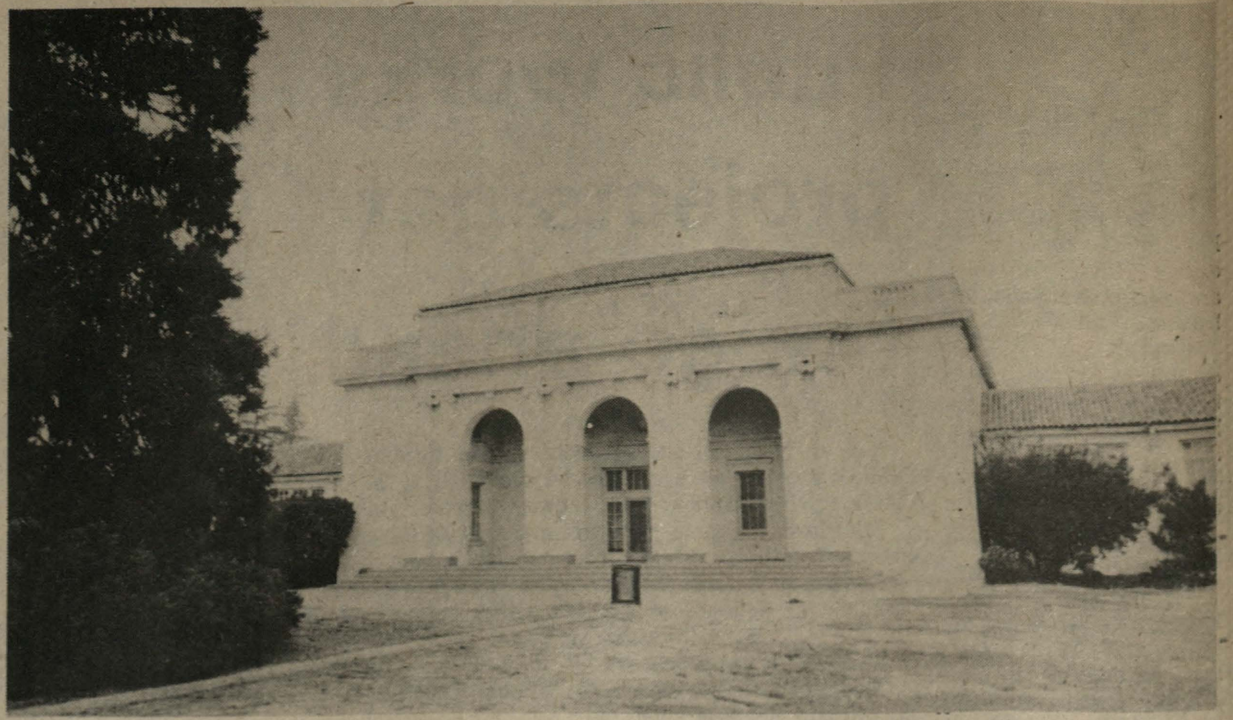
Other enthusiastic words of support came that night from representatives of the Community Schools Study Committee, area youth sports organizations, senior citizens and other city commissioners.

That same night the city Parks and Recreation Commission adopted a recommendation to the City Council that all efforts be made to preserve the open space characteristics of the old Campbell grammar school grounds. That motion, by Commissioner Dewey Reed, won unanimous endorsement from fellow commissioners.

Thursday night, at the Civic Improvement Commission meeting, Commissioner Pfirrman also got unanimous approval of a similar recommendation to the City Council.

OTHER PROPOSALS BROUGHT up at the HCD hearings included:

- Street construction on Winchester, near Latimer ave.
- Widening the bridge on Hamilton ave. at the Highway 17 overpass.
- Downtown rejuvenation.
- More funding for housing rehabilitation.
- Land banking for low income housing.
- Installation of a traffic signal at Erin way and Bascom ave.



THE OLD school building at Campbell and Winchester boulevard has been vacant now for almost two years. But, if a proposal adopted by the City Council Monday night is successful, that building will be in use again. Councilmen voted to earmark $400,000 in federal funding during the 1978-79 year to acquiring or leasing the school site for a neighborhood center, open space, historic preservation and recreational uses.

"The Forgotten Woman"

Once upon a time there was a woman who was only 5'3" tall, and she was so sad because she couldn't find anything to wear! She had gone to ALL the stores and no one wanted to help her, they all said things like, "Why don't you try the Children's Department?" or "We could have it altered." But no one really cared!

"Poor Me, Poor Me" she said. She was so tired of being "The Forgotten Woman" — surely someone cared!

Then one day a friend told her about The Short Story; a store created exclusively for the woman 5'3" and under!!

When "The Forgotten Woman" went to "The Short Story" she found a store filled to the brim with short length pants, pantsuits, dresses, and coordinated outfits for mixing and matching. She could hardly believe her eyes! She was no longer "The Forgotten Woman" and she shopped happily ever after — at "The Short Story."

A move to disband district committee

THE DISTRICT-WIDE Partners in Educational Planning Committee (PEP) will be going the way of the dinosaur if the recommendation of committee members and administrators is adopted by Campbell elementary trustees.

That recommendation is to disband the district PEP committee and, instead, rely on monthly meetings between the Superintendent and parent representatives at local schools PEP groups on the local school level would continue to function.

The reason for the move to disband among members of the three and a half year-old group is their feelings that the district PEP committee just didn't work.

For one thing, the committee depended upon recommendations from the school PEP groups and only five schools from among the 18 in the district have these groups.

"We weren't communicating," explained Ron Rescigno, assistant superintendent, and a member of the group. And that was the major purpose of organizing the committee in the first place.

"THE COMMITTEE was not providing a successful communications and advise process for the district," Rescigno said in a memo sent out two weeks ago. "There was a high level of frustration over the lack of success," he added.

Del Tucci, chairman of the PEP executive board, said last week she feels a lack of commitment on the part of committee members led to the recommendation.

"Everyone should share an equal blame," she added, "the district, parents, and teachers."

Tucci said the group had gotten bogged down in procedures and over the last three years hadn't been able to accomplish anything.

THE PARENT leader said she is very much in favor of the move to disband the group and set up a new communications vehicle with the local schools.

While the district committee should be disbanded, Rescigno said the district plans to keep encouraging the development of ad hoc task force groups at the district level. Examples of those committees, he said, was the recent citizens' group looking into school facilities and a group studying textbook selection.

And the recommendation also carries with it a notation that teacher-parent partnership must be encouraged by the Superintendent through principals at all school sites.

$1 MILLION AWARDED

Jeffrey Stewart Spence, a 29-year-old Campbell man who was left a paraplegic after an auto accident in 1974, was recently awarded $1,028,273 in damages by a Superior Court jury panel.

Defendants in the suit were Patchett's Bus and Transportation Company and the local YMCA, who will share the liability.

Spence struck the side of the bus carrying children to a summer camp while riding his motorcycle on Highway 9 in the Santa Cruz mountains July 27, 1974.

According to Spence's attorneys, the bus driver had been attempting to make a left turn across the highway and was backed up, blocking the highway, when Spence's motorcycle approached and was unable to stop.

OFFICER DAVE Cooper is shown above with the new hand held radar unit, also known as The Camera, being used by Campbell patrolmen. It went into service last week and, from all indications, speeding citations are expected to be up. The new equipment, which can give an instant "fix" on a motorist's speed, is usually used by two officers. One works the radar unit and the other hands out citations. In contrast to the standard radar equipment, The Camera can be targeted in on one car, even when traffic lanes are full, and can be switched instantly from east to west bound vehicles. And, in a pinch, it can also be used by a single patrolman.

A plan that merits community support

For years the old Campbell grammar school property has been termed "the most valuable piece of real estate in the county." That label implies commercial use for the over seven acres of surplus buildings and land at the corner of Winchester boulevard and Campbell avenue.

But recently community members and local officials have started to look at "value" in another light.

The value of providing a neighborhood center for use by senior citizens, youth and adults. A recreational facility desperately needed to serve existing programs. The historic preservation of Campbell's most attractive landmark. And open space in a city which has less than 200 acres of undeveloped land.

We feel the present drive to acquire that property for a neighborhood center deserves the support of the entire community and, most importantly, Campbell elementary school trustees.

In the coming months elected officials in both the city and school district will have an opportunity to work together on one of the most important projects ever undertaken locally.

The term "highest and best use" is often used to describe getting the highest dollar value out of a piece of land.

But, in this case, we feel that the highest and best use for the old garmmar school property would be in its service to present and future generations.

and commercial streets once a week (formerly twice weekly).

Some time ago you said the District Attorney's office would be reporting soon on the results of their investigation into the activities of the local planning commissioner. That was three or four weeks ago. What's happened?

CURIOUS

Editor's note: As of last week they were still studying the case. Deputy District Attorney Al Bender said there are some very complicated issues to look into, including the provisions of the new state Political Reform Act. "All I can say is we're working as fast as we can," Bender declared, "and this isn't the only case we have to work on." He said he expects to have the probe completed soon.

I see where the Planning Commission is going to look into population density in one area of Campbell (the Union ave. section). I feel that look see is about 150 apartment buildings overdue. And, while they're at it, why not take a look at the "commercial density" if there is such a thing. You don't have to look very far around here to find businesses and even whole centers that are struggling and dying for lack of business.

LOCAL BUSINESSMAN

What ever happened to that signal that was planned for the Darryl drive-Hamilton ave. intersection. There must have been at least 13 major accidents there last year alone.

CONCERNED

Editor's note: According to Engineering Manager Bill Helms, "We don't have the funding yet," That signalization, originally estimated at about $80,000, was one of the city's proposals in the second go-round for federal Public Works Bill money. It was not funded. Helms says the city recognizes the need and plans to present a proposal to the City Council sometime this year.

Open letter to the Campbell City Council

The Country Woman's Club of Campbell passed a motion at their November 7 meeting to send you a letter requesting you take under serious consideration the naming of the small park at Harrison and Campbell ave. the "J.C. Ainsley Park."

In 1958 Judge John D. Blaine, a pioneer resident of the community, in his weekly column written for the Campbell PRESS, commented that ". . . no other man meant so much to Campbell in its early days as did J.C. Ainsley." He was the first to supply a nurse for the cannery, first to have a kindergarten for workers' small children and the first to supply hot lunches for workers at low cost.

All the women of Campbell able to work, according to Judge Blaine, took part in the season's pack in the cannery. "Not to work there was to feel socially left out," he said.

Ainsley and the firm enjoyed a notable reputation for fair dealing with growers and customers, and with his employees as well.

What better way to honor this enterprising humanitarian than to name the park that is located on a part of the property that was the Ainsley Corporation, the "J.C. Ainsley Park"?

Betty Schwartz, corresponding secretary
Country Woman's Club of Campbell

Editor's note: About two months ago a similar proposal to rename Harrison Park was submitted to the City Council by the Civic Improvement Commission. That request, to call the tiny park the "J.C. Ainsley Park," also received the endorsement of the Parks and Recreation Commission. No action was taken on that request by the Council. The recommendation was noted and filed. Members of the Country Woman's Club have requested time on the City Council agenda under "oral requests" at the Nov. 28 meeting.

A left cross to the sports editor

EDITOR:

After receiving this week's edition of the Campbell PRESS, it is nice to see that all the news gets reported but the sports section is its usual lousy section.

It's too bad our old home town paper doesn't give the coverage to all our Campbell sports. It still appears the Sports Editor (Dick Sparrer) again has made no attempt to put the Campbell sports into his section.

I sat down to again read about Campbell High School football and . . . the first two paragraphs dealt with editorial B.S. The remainder negatively dealt with Prospect's ability to play in the game. Nothing about the game at all. The only photo on the page was posed of the Campbell linemen showing their best side but you wouldn't see the main person the article and photo talked of.

Again Del Mar got its usual great coverage to the editor's liking. Along with the usual Campbell news, Oakland Raiders, Ray Guy and his 74 yard punt, change in Warrior programming, the U.S. — Britain tennis matches and San Jose state soccer teams.

How about the announcement last week about Santa Teresa Little League signups? They are located in south eastern San Jose.

I think Mr. Sparrer should spend some time in our Campbell area. He might find out about all the sports activities being provided. The people are very human and quite active. Our kids deserve his support.

I think the community should really get out and tell what it's like. We want our sports coverage or to find someone who cares about serving our community.

I remember when Campbell Little League always made the Valley Journal and San Jose Mercury-News; Mr. Sparrer thought it was such a good idea he had to steal some space to put the news in his sports section. Guess he didn't want to look bad.

After all this, let's remember this is where everything began; in Campbell. I think it's great that the surrounding schools and areas get coverage. After all, they live within Campbell city. But let's not forget our roots; Campbell.

The sports editor should look into the Campbell Area Youth Sports Association (CAYSA).

John Hanrahan

EDITOR:

The Campbell PRESS provides news and information on local government, schools and activities of interest to various factions of the community. Coverage of youth sports activities fall into this latter category.

Obviously, the limited staff of the PRESS does not permit in-person reporting on youth baseball, softball, soccer and the like, but must instead rely upon league officials for information on upcoming events or "stringers" for game results and highlights. An added benefit can be that otherwise uninvolved young people have the opportunity to gain journalism experience as well as other valuable characteristics such as self-pride and responsibility in putting together these summaries.

Over the past two seasons Campbell Little League has tried very hard to cooperate with the PRESS by providing information on the past week's games, future events, etc.

During 1977 Mrs. Arlene Catalana spent considerable time in coordinating these efforts.

In the 10 or so weeks that our league season runs, mention of league activities appeared perhaps three or four times.

The promise of a by-line for good stories on Little League baseball attracted several of the teenagers who frequent the area during the season. Their enthusiasm quickly dimmed however, as their stories were either not used or were chopped extensively and, on at least one occasion, modified to the point of inaccuracy.

Information was provided to the PRESS describing the 1977 Section 3 tournament hosted by Campbell Little League. No mention of this tournament ever appeared in the sports section of the PRESS.

During 1976 the situation was certainly no better. Coverage of the 1976 World Series team was excellent but the week to week tabulations of game results, so treasured by players and their parents, were generally lacking.

While many members of the community must certainly have an interest in reading at length about the San Jose Sunbirds, the radio stations to which to tune for play by play of various professional sports and miscellaneous sports trivia, it is my feeling that coverage of local youth sports programs should be considered of higher priority.

Fighting the urge to leave a lasting impression on Campbell avenue recently were two members of The Silent Company mime troupe. Last week pedestrian walkways were being installed in the new island areas of Civic Center drive. Landscaping, for those islands, will take a little longer. Public Works Director Joe Elliott is seeking city council approval to use $94,000 in federal funding for the plantings.

Community Thanksgiving service set for Nov. 23

DR. L. DOWARD McBAIN

Campbell's annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, Winchester at Hamilton ave.

Several local church choirs will perform and guest speaker will be Dr. L. Doward McBain, President of the American Baptist Seminary of the West.

The guest minister came to the seminary presidency after a 15-year pastorate at First Baptist Church, Phoenix. He has been deeply involved in the ecumenical movement, including membership on the General Board of the National Council of Churches.

Dr. McBain also serves as a delegate to the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches in New Delhi, India, and as a guest lecturer at the Southwestern Faith and Order Conference several years ago. In 1976 he was one of the preachers for the Bicentennial Convocation on Preaching, held in Rhode Island.

The annual community service is sponsored by Protestant and Catholic pastors in the Campbell area.

During the evening an offering will be received to help feed hungry people in the community and around the world through two ecumenical agencies.

Local hospital for sale

CAMPBELL COMMUNITY Hospital is up for sale by Pacific Community Hospitals, Inc., and among possible buyers is O'Connor Hospital of San Jose.

According to a spokesman for O'Connor, they are now conducting feasability studies on the possible purchase but a decision is still, "some weeks down the road."

Administrator Gene Mesick of Campbell Community acknowledged the 48-bed facility is on the market and that he's been talking to a number of prospective buyers.

An internal dispute earlier this year reportedly led to a walkout by some physicians in this privately owned hospital.

Mesick said Friday there was no walk out but that several physicians haven't been using the facility.

RECENTLY ONE wing of the hospital was closed when the patient census dropped to 15. Mesick said that figure has now climbed back to about 20 in early November.

"October was a slow month," he added.

A state accreditation team is scheduled to visit the hospital December 6.

Campbell's only locally-based hospital was the site of sharp controversy in 1972, shortly after the present owners took over.

TWENTY THREE of the 31-member nursing staff submitted their resignations in September of 1972 in protest over what they claimed was "increased liability in working conditions."

Earlier, when participating doctors disagreed with the new owners over their method of adding new doctors to the staff, a letter went out to the close to 200 physicians informing them their staff privileges had been terminated.

A month later all were reinstated after the Superior Court nullified that "dismissal" notice.

Concern over street sweeping cutbacks

CONCERN OVER leaves, litter and landscaping dominated discussions at the Community Conversation held by the Campbell Civic Improvement Commission last Thursday night.

City beautification was the theme of the session and about 12 residents showed up to speak that night.

The cutback in streetsweeping operations in the city sparked several comments including those from one woman who said Campbell's street sweeping operations used to be one of the best city services, before the cutback this year.

"We're getting to be a dirty little town," she added, calling for the city to get back to once a week service for residential neighborhoods.

Dewey Reed, a member of the Parks and Recreation Commission, suggested a compromise with more frequent service during heavy leaf fall and summer months with a cutback in winter and spring.

RALPH ERMATINGER, regional representative for the U.S. Brewer's Association, traveled from Sacramento last week to present his firm's Positive Litter Reduction Program to commissioners.

The plan, which is used in several cities, includes a public campaign, local ordinances, proper containerization of trash and a volunteer coordinating committee.

Ermatinger said litter can be reduced up to 70 per cent through the program.

Public Works Director Joe Elliott gave a report on future plans for landscaping the island areas near Civic Center drive, the new loop street.

He said he plans to ask the City Council to allocate the $94,000 in federal Housing and Community Development funds, earlier earmarked for the downtown semi-mall, for this landscaping project.

OTHER TOPICS under discussion that night included:

- Concern over increased litter on the Campbell High School front lawn.
- A report of a missing manhole cover on N. Milton ave. (public works is checking into this).
- A request that citizens' groups and individuals be able to volunteer funds and-or ideas on park and street plantings to city staff.
- A question about when the east side of Winchester boulevard, near Pollard road, will be landscaped (Elliott said the city must get permission from Southern Pacific, who owns the land and estimated it would be 5 or 6 years before that project is completed).
- The possible establishment of a Beautification Committee to meet every 2 or 3 months.

Sales tax is $57.3 million

Campbell racked up over $57 million in taxable sale during the second quarter of 1977, the state board of equalization reported last week.

Top sale category was home furnishing and appliance stores with $8.5 million followed by $6.7 million for restaurants and bars. Building materials and farm implements was third with $5.4 million.

Fourth place went to service stations with $4.4 million.

For the same quarter, Cupertino reported $46.8 million and Los Gatos came in with $35 million.

Chamber signing up more merchants

The Shop Campbell program, sponsored by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, started a drive last week to sign up new merchants and business owners.

Seniors, 62 years and older, are offered discounts on merchandise or services of 10 per cent or more under this program started last year.

All participating merchants are listed in a booklet given out to seniors at the local chamber office.

The purpose of the program is to assist seniors and to encourage shopping locally.

Sudden infant deaths: still a mystery killer

RECENT PUBLICITY about the effect of the tragedy of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome in the lives of movie star Robert Redford and his wife is encouraging to local members of the International Guild for Infant Survival.

Two women who coped with this tragedy in their own lives, Jeanne Davies of San Jose and Surah Wiener of Milpitas, believe only good can come from the Redford's recent revelation of the loss of a child years ago.

"There are still so many people who aren't aware that these deaths for which there is no explanation occur, and who don't know that there is help available to cope with the problems that arise from this tragedy," the women say.

BOTH ARE MEMBERS of an advisory board to a year-old Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Center in Berkeley, which, with federal funding, is attempting to coordinate educational programs about SIDS. New films are available for parent groups as well as medically-oriented and police, fire and paramedic personnel. The latter deal not only with SIDS, but aiding families in shock due to any death.

"Reactions to any death range from anger and hostility to numbness. Our public servants need to know how to handle people in this type of shock," Davies notes.

IN ADDITION TO educating the public about SIDS, these women are concerned with two other programs: funding for more research about SIDS and donations to assist families overwhelmed by such a crisis.

"We can tell you what SIDS isn't, but not what it is," Wiener explains. "It is not sleep apnea (in which babies stop breathing for a brief time period), but it may be a breathing problem. We do know that stresses on the baby should be kept low, and parents should not hurry to end night feedings. But that may or may not have anything to do with it."

SIDS STRIKES seemingly healthy infants up to two years of age, who then quietly die in their sleep. Autopsies offer no clues to the cause of death. These crib deaths number about two per 1,000 in Northern California according to official statistics, but Davies says the Guild receives an average of two calls per week to aid parents who must cope with the grief of the baby's loss.

There is anger when the women speak of the lack of outcry for research and aid for parents and siblings. "I don't think there is awareness of how this upsets people's lives," Davis said, recounting how both she and her husband lost their jobs when they had trouble coping with their infant's death. "It takes at least a year to recover from this. And, if you've just paid for the birth, and are now faced with funeral expenses, this can be overwhelming."

Davies and Wiener are seeking benefactors who will provide funds for funeral expenses, grave markers, food and other cost items. "We could use a car too, to deliver food or just to send someone out to counsel with a family," Davies said.

MEMBERS OF THE Guild contact families within hours after the hospital or coroner or CONTACT telephone ministries contacts Davies about a child's death, to offer emotional support as well as other assistance. "We have no way to raise as much money as we need — we need businesses or clubs to cooperate with us," Davies said. The women can be reached by dialing CON-TACT and leaving a message for them.

Wiener is equally anxious to have more funds for research. Currently, Stanford University is conducting research on "high-risk" babies who show signs of suffering from apnea. But the research continues only as long as there is federal money available for it, Wiener explained, and at any time the US Department of Health, Education and Welfare could decide to withdraw funding for this type of research.

There's also a need for monitors for these high-risk children, which are normally too expensive for a family to afford. The monitoring could provide clues to SIDS as well as apnea.

Outlaw steel jawed traps

EDITOR:

Each year in California tens of thousands of animals die in incredible agony as victims of a device known as the "steel-jawed trap." An unsuspecting animal steps on a concealed trap, and the spring driven jaws slam shut with bone crushing, and flesh ripping force.

Thus, the animal is held until the trapper returns to deliver the death blow; or, as most often happens, the animals dies of thirst, starvation, or by being attacked and killed by another animal. Sometimes, the trapped animal takes days, and even weeks, to die.

Only one out of each four trapped animals is suitable for pelts for the fur industry. The other three are known as "trash animals" and are discarded by the trapper.

The trap was invented nearly 200 years ago and remains basically unchanged today.

CAST, Californians Against the Steel-Jawed Trap, is launching a ballot initiative drive that will place the issue before California voters in the November, 1978 general election. In excess of 500,000 registered voters are required to sign the petition.

The address of CAST is 1615 S. Escondido blvd. or P.O. Box 2457, Escondido, Ca. 92025.

Local couple honored at recognition lunch

FOR OVER SIX decades Dave and Irma Sanders have devoted their time to Campbell Kiwanis Club and Tuesday afternoon over 100 of their friends and fellow club members turned out for a special goodbye luncheon for the local couple.

The two had to drop active membership in the local group because of Dave's failing health. For the past 15 years Dave has suffered from lateral sclerosis which causes a progressive atrophy of the muscles. Until recently Irma brought Dave to the weekly Kiwanis luncheons in his wheelchairs.

When club members learned the popular couple wouldn't be able to attend meetings any more they set about organizing a special recognition luncheon to honor the two, complete with special out-of-town guests and a proclamation presented by Mayor Bill Podgorsek.

Irma's reaction was typical.

BUT THERE WAS plenty of "fuss" at Villa Felice in Los Gatos Tuesday with old time friends coming from as far away as Salinas to attend and the couple's two daughters (one from Mariposa) as special guests.

The two received a special plaque from the club, a resolution from Mayor Bill Podgorsek representing the City Council and special gifts.

The local club is losing more than two very active members. They're losing the distinction of being the only Kiwanis Club in the country with a woman member.

Irma had served as pianist for the Kiwanis for 31 years but in 1971 they entered her name on the membership rolls as I. Sanders. Under the international organization's rules, admitting a woman member is grounds for a local chapter losing its charter.

But, using Irma's initial instead of her first name, kept the breach from being apparent and, Kiwanis officials who knew, preferred to pretend they didn't.

DAVE HAS RACKED up 26 years of perfect attendance in his 33 years of membership. He's a Legion of Honor member and served as club president during the 1959-60 year.

In the early days Dave and Irma tended their ranch (which was located in the Budd ave.-San Tomas expressway area) and Dave later worked in the local cannery. In 1950 he became the supervisor of maintenance, buildings and grounds for the Campbell elementary school district, a post he held until his reitirement in 1965.

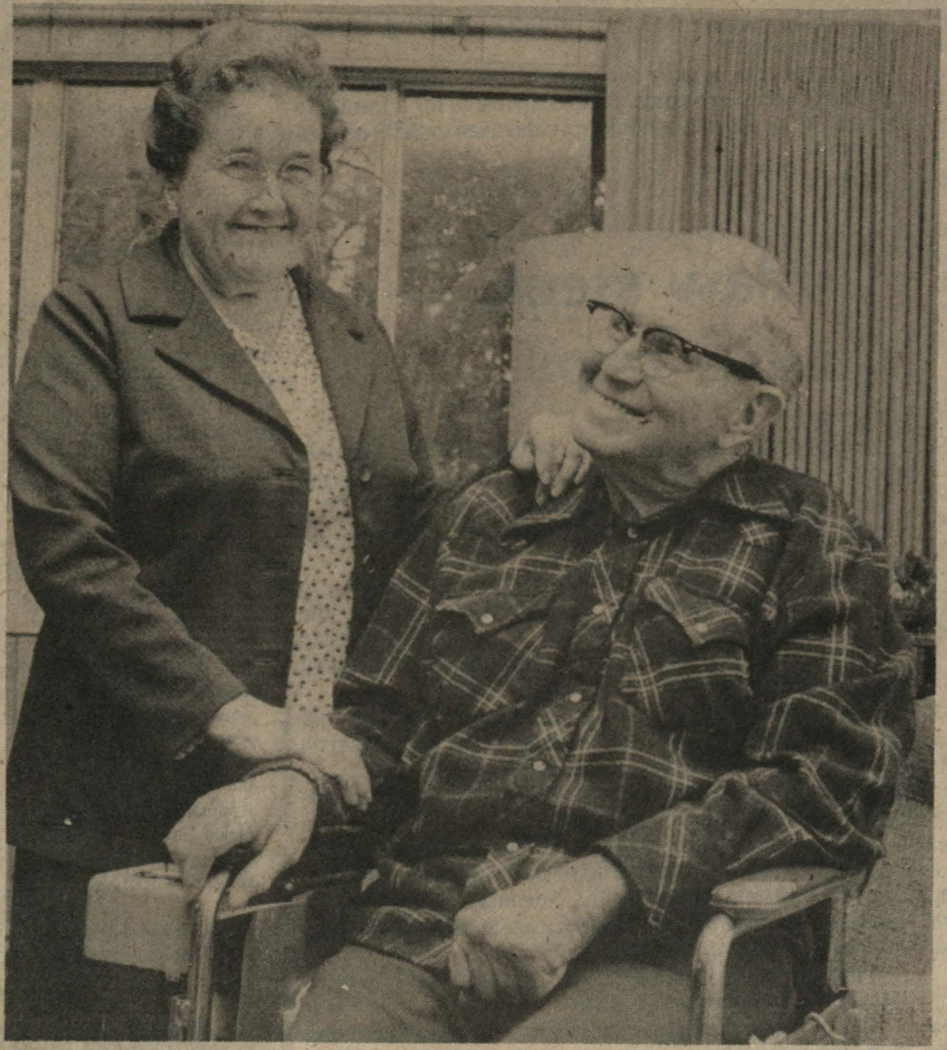
Dave was known locally as "the strongest man in the valley" and as a man with an inventive mind.

His tray scraper, used in the fruit drying process, was invented 30 years ago and is still in use today by orchardists.

IRMA HAS BEEN an active member in many local organizations over the years and served as pianist for the Congregational Church of Campbell for many years. During World War II she was one of the townspeople who served as a plane spotter and for five years after the war was a Grey Lady for the American Red Cross, serving in the motor pool.

And Dave is also remembered as the most powerful, if not the best, bowler in town in the days before automatic pin setters were invented. Pin boys used to man the alleys and they all knew Dave.

"Those kids would just leave the alley and go three or four lanes away whenever Dave came up to the line," Lloyd Nelson remembers.



AT HOME in their Los Gatos home these days are Irma and Dave Sanders, who were feted by the Campbell Kiwanis Club Tuesday after they announced they were withdrawing from active membership. The local couple, he's 75 and she's 71, have been married for 52 years and have two daughters and four grandchildren. Dave served as head of maintenance and grounds for the Campbell elementary school district when there were only three schools to worry about. By the time of his retirement 15 years later, that total had grown to 19.

A KEEN ELECTION INTEREST

Outside of Campbell Junior High School students, probably no one had a keener interest in their recent election to choose a school mascot than Rex Jeffers, downtown clothing store owner.

For years Jeffers had ordered and stocked ahead about $1,000 worth of boy's PE uniforms for the fall semester. The bright red tops sport the old bulldog emblem.

With the influx of hundreds of students from the Blackford School area this year several adjustments had to be made at Campbell, including having the new, expanded student body decide on a school mascot and school colors.

At one point the suggested Campbell Cougars were running almost neck and neck with the old Campbell Bulldogs.

But Rex could breathe a sigh of relief when the election was over and students decided to keep their canine mascot (the shirts couldn't be returned).

Now, if one of the other "adjustments" was only finished, Jeffers might be able to sell the other half of that stock still sitting on the shelves.

The new showers still aren't completed so students aren't wearing their gym clothes yet.

NOT SUCH A NEW FACE

When Executive Vice President Ted Rogers of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce moved here from southern California last year to take over his new post he was a new face in town.

Now, it turns out, he's not so new after all.

At a recent meeting he was seated next to Birdie Hammer, a member of the Campbell Progressive Seniors and mother of Councilman Rusty Hammer.

"Rogers, Rogers," Birdie said. "Weren't you the Rogers that worked for the Pioneer District (Boy Scouts)?" she asked.

Seems Birdie remembered Rogers as one of those who presented Rusty with the Nertalmud Award, the highest Jewish scouting award.

And if Rogers didn't remember the occasion it's understandable. It happened about 13 years ago and Rusty has changed a lot over the years.

He was 11 then.

HE WANTED THE BEST

A young man is being sought by Campbell police after an incident at a jewelry store in the Pruneyard which left the merchant short one $2,200 diamond ring.

According to reports, the man entered Gabi Jewelers last Thursday and asked to look at engagement rings for his "fiance."

After looking through the standard rings he indicated there weren't good enough and asked to see "the best ring you have."

The clerk showed him a 2 carat diamond ring and the man asked to hold it. Instead, he placed the ring on his little finger and ran out of the store.

LOCAL MAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

A 74 year-old Campbell man was charged with assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer last week after a family disturbance at a home on Waldo avenue which caused $2,000 in property damages.

According to reports, the officer responded to a call and was told a neighbor had just broken up a fight between the man and his son in their backyard. The man had gone back into the house but stood looking out as the officer spoke to the man's wife and son outside in the street.

A few minutes later the officer noticed the suspect had entered his car and driven to a stop sign near the trio. He reportedly started to make the turn in their direction normally and then accelerated pointing the car at the officer and family standing near a small car in the roadway.

The three leaped free just in time but the suspect's car collided with the parked vehicle sending it onto the sidewalk, then jumped the curb and came to rest a few feet from a neighbor's front door.

Another patrolman was called to the scene and the arrest was made.

GRAND THEFT

A construction site on McGlincey ave. was reportedly robbed of a generator and 150 feet of extension cord last week.

Value of the theft was set at $609.86.

ANGEL'S ROBBED

Angel's Home Improvement Center at 1750 S. Bascom was the target of an armed robbery last Tuesday which netted the robbers less than $100.

According to reports, the cashier was approached by two men, one wearing a trench coat Tuesday evening.

One man demanded money and then opened his coat, revealing a rifle concealed underneath.

The two fled in a waiting car.

PARK BURGLARIZED

The equipment and storage room at John D. Morgan Park was reportedly broken into last week and tools stolen.

Public works staff has not set a value on the missing tools yet but if anyone finds them, they'll be easy to identify.

They're all marked, "City of Campbell."

EXPENSIVE WINDOW

A 10 by 20 foot plate glass window at Mervyn's department store was broken by vandals last Friday morning.

Damage was set at $500.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED

A 26 year old Campbell man was in critical condition at Good Samaritan Hospital Monday after his motorcycle was involved in a collision with a car near the Winchester boulevard-Sunnyoaks ave. intersection Sunday night.

Michael MacAbee was treated by Campbell paramedics at the scene and admitted to the hospital with severe head injuries.

TWO DRUG STORES HIT

In similar cases, two local drug stores were broken into last week and large amounts of drugs taken.

Campbell Drugs and Kirkwood Drugs both reported burglaries on Friday morning.

Kirkwood reported $900 in drugs missing during a preliminary check and planned to do a complete inventory.

Campbell Drugs did not have any initial estimates o their losses.

Popping up at Rosemary chool last week to let youngsters know of the Elves Workshop was Linda Schmit-Cohen (the elf) who got a shy reaction from students Nicky Nichols and Nicole Pare. The four-week crafts class for the 9 to 12 year old set will be held at Dover School and Campbell Junior High School starting Wednesday, Nov. 23 at 3:30 p.m. Fee is $5 and youngsters will create their own Christmas presents. Call Campbell Community Services at 378-8141 weekdays for more information or registration. (Photography by Ray Downey-Laskowitz)

Nuclear fuel waste

A Carter administration promise that the federal government will "take responsibility" for nuclear fuel waste disposal until a safe permanent disposal system can be developed has led to the San Diego Gas and Electric Co. renewing its call for the state to repeal some of its 1976 nuclear plant safety laws.

Now, it's 'short power'

Six cadet hopefuls applying for training to be California Highway Patrol Officers have filed a complaint with the State Personnel Board that claims the CHP's minimum height requirement is a violation of their civil rights.

The minimum height standards for the CHP is 5 feet 6 inches tall.

The plaintiffs contend in their claim that law enforcement agencies throughout the state and nation are eliminating all height requirements.

The CHP claims that height is directly related to an officer's performance of duty, including "the ability to be seen."

Brown asked to speak out

California Farm Bureau Federation President Fred Heringer called on Governor Brown to speak out on behalf of the state's agricultural interests. Heringer's remarks were presented in an editorial this week in the federation's newspaper, Ag Alert.

"He asks our help for water development when he thinks it's to his political advantage. He hides when he has to return the favor," Heringer charged. "The time may come very soon when he could use some help. Where will agriculture be then?"

The governor's office had no response immediately available, except to say that the Governor and his staff are working on a policy regarding the 160-acre limitation proposed by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Nutrition instruction

Students in public schools "at all grade levels" should be given instruction in nutrition, according to the Los Angeles County Board of Education. The board adopted a position of requiring "alternative foods" such as cheese, fruits, and nuts to be available to students whenever snack food vending machines are on their campus.

"It isn't a question of whether or not a youngster will buy a candy bar," Dr. Lawrence Kaplan explained. Kaplan is a dentist. "If there is a choice to be made, we hope the child will make the right choice."

An advisory panel suggested that, instead of banning "junk food" outright, children should be educated about nutrition and the values of various foods.

"We want to take a positive position," Kaplan, also a member of the Board of Education, explained simply.

Natural gas needs

Richard H. Peterson, chairman of Pacific Gas and Electric, called for more government cooperation and less interference in the development of future natural gas and electricity speaking this week before the Sacramento Comstock Club.

Concerning natural gas needs through 1990, Peterson said:

— There is a need to develop future import sources from Mexico, Algeria, Indonesia and possibly Australia, as well as new supplies from Alaska.

— Prices will be higher due to transportation costs, but not as high as the cost of failing to secure new supplies.

Concerning electrical supply through 1990, Peterson said:

— Several electrical energy plants including a nuclear facility at Diablo Canyon, must receive prompt and fair treatment from government concerning permit applications.

— Geothermal energy will be amphasized in the development of new electrical generating sources.

— Nuclear power plants must be approved.

Peterson said that it is the industry's position that there is enough energy available to meet the needs of California through 1990, providing the regulatory influence from government doesn't impede its progress toward securing new sources and supplies.

nutrition notes / What you'll pay for eating that doughnut

By DOROTHY TERRILL

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds a M.S. in Nutrition from UC Berkeley. Questions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to: Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, Suburban Newpaper Publications Inc., P.O. Box 368, Cupertino, 95014. Mrs. Terrill will answer questions as space allows.

A reader writes "Somewhere I read that it would take me 18 minutes of energetic bicycle riding to use up the calories in one doughnut. If this is true, is it worth my time to exercise to lose weight?"

It is true that it takes quite a while to wear off the calories of a particular food and the most indiscreet the food in terms of calories, the longer it takes to wear it off.

However, it should be remembered that these calories used up in exercising are cumulative. While you may not exercise enough in one day to use up a pound of stored fat, the calories burned in exercise can accumulate from day to day until you have consumed the 3500 calories that make up one pound of fat.

If you exercise enough each day to burn up an extra 100 calories, in one year you can lose 10.4 pounds. For a 150 pound person this would mean 13½ minutes spent playing tennis, or 18½ minutes walking on an asphalt road at a comfortable pace, or 11½ minutes swimming a slow crawl, or 49 minutes ironing (a man need spend only 22¾ min. at this job) or 23.8 minutes cleaning.

You can readily see that expending a little extra effort in exercise can make the difference in being slim or otherwise. The equation works the other way, too. Eating 100 extra calories per day for a year results in a weight gain of 10.4 pounds!

Of course, when you exercise in an effort to lose weight, you can't eat extra food and expect to lose. Many people claim that they are hungrier and eat more when they exercise but controlled studies have shown that this is not true. When people exercise vigorously in a regular manner, they do not eat more and actually may eat fewer calories. There goes that excuse for not exercising.

It is interesting to compare the number of minutes it takes to use up the calories in various foods when you're merely reclining vs. doing something active. Ten potato chips contains 108 calories. It takes 93 minutes of reclining to use up the calories vs. 21 min. of walking, 13 min. of bicycle riding, 10 minutes of swimming, and 6 minutes of running. That gives you an example of the benefits of some form of exercise in relation to using up food calories.

For the quickest weight loss program it is wise to combine decreased caloric intake with exercise. That means that instead of opening the refrigerator for a snack get on your bike and go for a ride or jog, walk, swim or even get down on your hands and knees and scrub the floor.

If a 150-pound person spends 20 minutes doing this chore, they've used up 148 calories, about the same as that doughnut mentioned earlier. In addition to using up the calories, you also have a clean floor.

Many household chores consume large numbers of calories — cleaning, cooking, shopping for food, ironing, vacuuming, and sewing. One could infer from this that a thin person probably has a cleaner house but from experience, I find that this is not necessarily true. However, often people who do work hard at keeping their house clean, feel that they "need more to go on" and eat more.

Don't reward yourself with food for the hard work you've done. Find another more satisfying and less harmful reward for yourself.

Regular exercise is beneficial in other ways than merely burning up extra calories. It keeps your muscles in tone, and is especially valuable for your heart. The heart is a muscular organ which needs regular exercise to keep it at maximum performance to pump blood throughout the body. To burn extra calories and maintain a good physical condition, include regular exercise in your life style.

Christmas Seal goal increases

The American Lung Association of Santa Clara-San Benito Counties has set a goal of $275,000 for the 71st annual Christmas Seal Campaign.

The goal is an 8.5 per cent increase over the $253,600.00 raised in the area last year. "Increased funds are needed to carry on the breath saving programs of the Lung Association in such areas as medical research, Breathing Improvement Classes, Respiratory Loans, Camp Wheez, smoking prevention in the schools, and the fight against air pollution," said Robert Stroughter, president.

Over $14 million in building

A total of $700,047 in building permits were issued in October, more than twice the total logged a year ago by the Campbell Building Department.

This is consistent with the city's total building value to date for 1977 of $14.4 million, compared to $6.2 million in 1976.

Largest item was the six single family homes totaling $275,710 in value, followed closely by a commercial development valued at $265,600.

Construction of new homes continues to dominate the local building scene with 164 permits issued so far this year for a total value of $7.4 million. Second place is the six multiple dwellings valued at $2.4 million.

The large commercial project which was issued a building permit in October was the neighborhood shopping center to be constructed at 629 through 655 Hacienda ave.

Trustees eye bond issue

SEVENTEEN SPEAKERS came forward to give their views on the completion of Mission College at the West Valley College District study session last Thursday. And, when the final tally was in, 12 were in favor of completion, three opposed and two spoke for the Santa Clara campus and against any elaborate facilities.

A decision on calling for a bond election or advisory vote is expected to be made at tonight's regular board session.

If trustees opt for an advisory election it is not clear what question will be posed to voters. Trustee Carol LaMarre said she originally favored asking voters how override taxes should be used but said Thursday she feels Trustee John Cantlen's suggestion is better.

Cantlen called for having voters decide whether they favor cash (override tax for three years) or time payment (a bond election) to build facilities. Also the question, "if the bondmeasure is not approved, does the district want us to continue building?"

TRUSTEE FOSTER Lopes said he is fully committed to completing the Santa Clara campus and he would not support a question of "should we have Mission College or not," on the March ballot.

Under existing state law, voters can reject bond issues for construction projects, but can't halt the project itself, if the state concurs. Instead of bond funds, the construction can be a pay-as-you go proposition with funds coming from district override taxes.

These taxes must first be approved by the state and the state's share of funding (50 per cent in previous district projects) must be approved by both houses of the state legislature and then signed into law by the Governor.

AT THE STUDY session district administrators noted that a bond election must be held every four years or the district loses its power to levy the lease-purchase (override) tax. To meet this requirement an election must be held during the 1977-78 year.

Among those speaking in favor of completing Mission College was Maryanne Brooks, a trustee in the Santa Clara Unified School District. She noted that "Santa Clara has been responsible for 37 per cent of the assessed value of this district, yet you serve only 1 in 16 to 18 residents in Santa Clara while this college (West Valley) serves 1 in 6 residents of Saratoga."

Touring Atascadero

Assemblyman Paul Bannai, R-Gardena, a member of the Criminal Justice Committee, is among a group of legislators touring the Atascadero State Hospital in San Luis Obispo County.

Bannai said the tour of Atascadero will be followed with a visit to another state mental correctional facility in Vacaville.

The purpose of the visits, he said, is to collect information for follow-up legislation to SB 42, the new determinant sentence law that prescribes maximum prison terms for felony offenses including sex crimes and violent assaults. The law also applies retroactively to inmates who have already served the length of time prescribed for various felony offenses under SB 42.

Bannai said the Criminal Justice Committee wants to address the problem of deranged sex offenders being released under the conditions of the new law and the problems of determinant sentences for mentally deranged criminals convicted of sex crimes and violent attacks.

New job proposal

Senate Leader James Mills outlined his "leisure-sharing" job plan to a Senate Committee this week that he said would create a million and a half new jobs a year.

The idea, he said, is to allow employees to agree to time off for wage reductions while employers fill the job time left over with additional workers.

Water and 'family farms'

State Assemblyman Mike Antonovich, R-Glendale/Burbank, took a shot at the proposed federal regulations which would limit the amount of federally-supplied water to 160-acre "family farms," charging the changes would "cause serious disruptions throughout the entire economy."

Antonovich threw down a glove to the Brown administration, challenging it to actively oppose the implementation of the rules.

"Proponents of the acreage restrictions nostalgically hope that halting delivery of federal project water to farms exceeding 160 acres or 320 acres for a husband and wife will lead to a renaissance of the small family farm," the assemblyman said. "What they will really get, however, is something else."

Among other things, "something else" includes economic chaos and job losses, Antonovich charged.

Requests for DMV

An independent survey conducted for the Department of Motor Vehicles has determined that Californians want DMV to provide services on Saturday and during evenings, automatically extend the driving privileges of drivers with good records, and issue driver's licenses good for eight or twelve year terms. The results of the survey were announced by DMV this week.

The poll was conducted between Aug. 13 and 23 by Field Research Corporation. The "Fieldscope" survey polled some 1,100 randomly selected adults in personal interviews.

Top management of the DMV has submitted a plan to field offices to extend office hours past the current 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. schedule.

After input is received from the field offices a final version of the plan will be announced in mid-November, according to the state DMV office.

Speeding truckers

If you've been suffering from that run down feeling, the California Highway Patrol has encouraging news for you.

CHP Commissioner Glen Craig announced a 26.5 per cent increase in the number of citations issued to speeding truckers this September over the same month last year. During the same month, the number of tailgating truckers who received citations rose 115.5 per cent over last September's figure to a total of 459.

"Hopefully," Craig said, "it means truck drivers are getting the message and more of them are complying with the speed limit."

Ten four and "73's."

McAlister commends Riles

Senator Alister McAlister, D-San Jose has commended state Schools Chief Wilson Riles for his decisive vote to tighten admission standards for the University of California.

McAlister stated in an Oct. 28 letter to Riles:

"I . . . agree with you that it is demeaning to assume that minority students cannot meet high standards."

Assemblywoman Maxine Waters, D-Los Angeles, blasted Riles however, and said the new requirements will increase the importance of standardized testing.

Waters said the tests "tell us very little about a student's qualifications," but do reflect "social class and family income."

Both Riles and Waters are black.

Mexican-Americans under-represented

Assemblyman Jim Keysor, D-San Fernando, has released a report that concludes Mexican-Americans are drastically under-represented in city government.

The report blames "at-large" elections over district representation as the main reason.

Mince - and quince - on Pisces' menu

For Nov. 19 through Nov. 25

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Dreams highlighted. Sort fantasy for fact. Feeling, rather than logic, is correct, Ari, so if you intuit — do it!

TAURUS (April 20 — May 20): If nothing fits, Taurus, turn puzzle around. New view turns zig to zag and you find patterns emerge. Missing piece may appear. Prepare the fatted calf, or turkey, or whatever. Just in case.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Details! Details! Fuss too long with trees, Gem, and you lose sight of the proverbial forest. Besides, perfection is slightly annoying. As check-list dwindles, so does energy. Take time off — with wood-nymph maybe?

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Sometimes we have to crawl through a lot of mud to get to the truffles, Moonbaby. This week leave not rock, root or rutabaga unturned. Reward worth it if you just keep on sloshing. Week ends with a burp.

LEO (July 23, Aug. 22): Ideas mesh. Family/friends rally 'round and you enjoy holiday mood. Heaven has blessed you a whole bunch, Leo, and this week you must say "thank you."

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): The silent you takes hold this week, Virgo. Good. After all, nature gave us two ears and one mouth for a very good reason. To hear more and talk less. Use quiet interlude to get your emotional batteries charged and your oil changed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Others press for decisions. Wait. Divert conversations (as only you can do, Libra) with dazzling bits of trivia. Solution emerges if you but give it time to incubate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Feather your own nest, Scorp, but not by clipping someone else's wings. Message clears. Holiday mood prevails as week struts to a frantic fini.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Pace quickens and so does your pulse. Romance may blow in one door and out the other before you even have a chance to bat those long lashes of yours. Be on the lookout, Saj, for fast riders and white knights.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You may have had it up to your eyeballs, but keep quiet until stage is set and perfect moment arrives. Then, and only then, can you unload. Timing isn't everything, dear Cap, it's the only thing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Give credit where it is due. Sandwich complaints you have between two thick compliments. Later in week you can sweet talk sassy bird out of tree into your waiting hand. Goody.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You've had your share of overtures, Pisces, now you need some undertones. Family/friends take priority. Dine on mince (with slices of quince, of course) and eat with a runcible spoon. Enjoy, enjoy.

Decrease in cattle

Following recent predictions, the California Department of Food and Agriculture announced a 16 percent decrease in the number of cattle and calves being fattened for market below last year. The announcement came from the department's Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The report notes that despite the decrease in grain fed cattle in California, nationwide figures are up five percent overall. Statistics chief Robert McGregor said the problem is one of pure economics: on a pound-for-pound basis, it is costing as much to prepare beef cattle for market as they bring, and the department's market figures don't include what is described, generally, as the increased cost of cattle production within the state.

Increased production costs in California are attributed to the drought, which is forcing producers to purchase higher-priced feed from other states.

State gets funds for litter control

The State Solid Waste Management Board has been allocated an additional $18 million to control litter in California and recycle the collected trash into usable resources. The program hopes to prove unique concepts for resource recycling as well as clean up the state.

State test results show districts are on target

On a district-wide basis Campbell elementary and high school students scored within the expected range on a state test of basic skills administered during the last school year.

But, a breakdown by school, shows there were sharp, individual differences.

The California Assessment Program, Survey of Basic Skills is designed to show school districts how they fare compared to similar districts throughout the state. And to give school officials an indication of special problem areas.

While the Campbell elementary school district as a whole scored within the middle 50 per cent there were 28 scores above the expected range and 17 below in the 16 elementary schools.

Scores ranged from a high of 96 on the sixth grade math testing at Dover School to a low of 8 on sixth grade spelling at Hamilton School.

IN THE high school district, seniors scored within the expected range in all four subject areas: reading, written expression, spelling and mathematics. But school scores fell below the range eight times, and above in six other cases.

The range was from a high of 95 in mathematics at Prospect High School to a low of 41 in spelling at Westmont.

With the state testing program in effect for several years now, it's possible to follow the progress of a given grade from year to year, Ken Meinecke, assistant superintendent of instruction for the elementary district, explained last week.

"For example, the second graders in the District in 1974-75 overtook an additional 6 per cent of the youngsters in the state by the end of the third grade," Meinecke said.

INDIVIDUAL school results (shown in the charts below) indicate that test scores in the more affluent areas outstrips that of average or low income areas by a wide margin. But, in some cases, a test score of 90 at one school falls within the expected range while a score of 45 in another school is above that of similar schools state-wide.

According to Meinecke, each school's test results are compared with those of other schools with similar socio-economic data. That includes the occupation of parents, expected income level and percentage of families receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

Results of the latest testing are being used by principals to identify successful programs and to help remediate any deficiencies, Meinecke said.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ
© Bea Rene 1976

The "Limey House" is honoring the "Feast of the Pilgrims" who hailed from England 350 yrs. ago . . . THE LONDON OYSTER will be serving a fantastic Thanksgiving feast from 2-8 p.m. w/a complete traditional Thanksgiving turkey dinner for only $7.95, (children 11 & under $4.25). It will be a table service dinner & w/incl. shrimp & crab salad, juicy roast Tom Turkey, creamed onions & peas, yams, mashed potatoes & gravy, & choice of pumpkin or mince pie. A fantastic dinner! The reg. menu w/be available also. Popular Ernie Briones w/be playing lovely background music thruout dinner. (Call for reservations early.)

Where can you find a $5.95 Prime Rib dinner?? Incl. a glass of wine?? None other than at the DRYING SHED restaurant every Mon. & Tues. nite where their fine staff serves to a very receptive clientele . . . this is a charming restaurant adorned w/old kitchen utensils, rolling pins, enameled jello molds, etc. — set in the midst of the orchard country just off #680 at McKee Rd., S.J. Why don't you stop by for lunch, dinner or a marvelous Sun. Brunch?

Last wk. I had the pleasure of enjoying a super Margarita at the Foster City SENOR PEPE'S by the waters edge. They serve great Mexican cuisine . . . very authentic & tasty. Stop by either Foster City or Cupertino — the decor is absolutely charming — a touch of old Mexico w/tiled tables & floors imported from Mexico, lovely Mexican chandeliers & elegant spiral stairwells. The Cupertino SENOR PEPE'S is now open to please you! So take my advice & stop by.

The ECHO RESTAURANT, nestled beside a creek in a wooded setting in Los Altos, w/be open Thanksgiving Day serving dinner for $3.95-up. You may order any of these a la carte, however; the complete children's dinner is only $2.50. John Bikakis w/offer Roast Tom Turkey w/giblet gravy, Baked Ham w/raisin sauce & yams, Cordon Bleu w/mushrooms, Prime Rib of Beef au Jus, N.Y. Steak & Fried Chicken. Dinners w/incl. soup or salad, ice cream or sherbet, w/cheese cup, garlic toast & pumpkin pie. What a bountiful Thanksgiving Day dinner this w/be! Reserve now!

I was happy to hear that the BLACK KETTLE w/be open on Thanksgiving Day since they cook such great homecooked dinners which are very apropos for such an occasion as this . . . among the selections w/be Roast Prime Rib, Roast Turkey, Baked Ham together w/fr. vegs., mashed potatoes & gravy & their abundant salad bar. By next week I'll be able to tell you in more detail the menu of the BLACK KETTLE RESTAURANT. There are 2 bar/lounges to satisfy your cocktail needs & fine wine to enhance your dinner. The attractive decor & relaxed atmosphere w/make this a memorable Thanksgiving.

Dining amongst the memorabilia at CLEMENTINE'S w/put you in a nostalgic mood . . . you & your favorite gal w/enjoy remembering about the days when your piano held all the sheet music that is adorning one wall in CLEMENTINE'S & you'll see other mementos of the past. The new Continental menu is being acclaimed by one & all. It is served w/style & inspiration by charmingly dressed waitresses who give efficient service. I highly recommend you stop by for either lunch or dinner — remember there's plenty of free parking, too.

I don't blame Ed Driscoll, founder of the SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED restaurants, for being proud of the many comments he gets from diners: "Friendly & the wine surpassed my expectations" (San Jose); "Salad bar & brew are great. We had 2 pitchers! (Fremont); "Service was particularly courteous — like the wine service" (SM). "Free wine w/dinner — good idea!" (Saratoga). Occasionally when a customer notices something not up to par, Ed takes immediate steps to correct it. But thousands of people dining well on a budget (under $5 for steak, unlimited salad, wine, etc.) attest to the high quality at S & B UNLIMITED.

The "DEL POMPADOURS" Rock & Roll Revival Show w/be performing next Sat. night, Nov. 19th, at the BOLD KNIGHT Restaurant, Sunnyvale . . . this w/be a benefit show sponsored by the IKAROS CHAPTER, San Jose, of the PANCRETAN ASSN. . . . all proceeds to go to the University of Crete's Library Fund . . . there w/be a no host cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m., steak dinner & dancing at $12.50 per person following. The "DEL POMPADOURS," starring Bruce Avilla, Rich Friedrich, Keith Jones, Nick Manousos, John Paisis, Rocky Paisis, & lead singer, Sue Gundunas, w/bring you exciting music of the 50's & 60's, includ. a spec. "Tribute to Elvis Presley." Following this engagement they will commence a National tour originating in Florida. Needless to say, they have been "discovered," & you can look forward to seeing them on your TV soon, mark my words. Don't forget Sat., Nov. 19th!! Call BOLD KNIGHT, 245-8777 for reservations.

U.C. blasted: 'haven for the rich'

Capitol News Service

Assemblywoman Maxine Waters, D-Los Angeles has blasted the University of California Board of Regents' for tightening admission standards that will increase the importance of standardized tests.

"There is no justification for increasing the weight of standardized tests," said Waters, "when several recent studies demonstrate that they may be a very good predictor of social class and family income, but tell us very little about a student's qualifications or chances for academic success."

Waters said the new admission rules "unfairly restrict accessibility" to college for poor and minority students.

"U.C. campuses are public tax supported institutions and are not intended to be havens for the rich," she said.

Waters said she was particularly upset at the fact that State Schools Chief Wilson Riles, a black, supported the move and provided the swing vote necessary for their adoption.

Riles told the press after the vote "it was the hardest decision I have ever had to make as a black.

"But," Riles had said, "we can no longer accept being 'almost good enough.' "

Waters, also a black, said she was "shocked" at Riles' support of the new admission standards with the knowledge he has of the social faults with standardized tests.

The new standards were adopted to ensure only the top 12 per cent of high school graduates are eligible for enrollment into the U.C. system.

Del Mar tops Bruins

Dons take on unbeaten 'Cats in battle for 1st

By DICK SPARRER
Sports Editor

WHEN RON LEIMBACH took over the reins as the head coach of the Del Mar high school football team last September, he wasn't sure exactly what was in store for him.

Del Mar didn't exactly have the reputation as a powerhouse in West Valley Athletic League football circles. In fact, the number of winning seasons in the school's history could be counted on one hand with fingers to spare.

So Leimbach certainly could have taken on a pessimistic outlook when he moved over from Blackford to take over the head man's job at Del Mar.

The first time the Dons took the field under Leimbach's guidance, Del Mar was annihilated 40-0 by Lincoln.

But a strange thing happened to Del Mar on its way to the Thanksgiving Day finale — the Dons started winning.

And Del Mar has come up a winner five of six times in WVAL play to become a bonafide contender for the league title.

The Dons will put that 5-1 record on the line this Friday when they meet unbeaten Los Gatos in an 8 p.m. game at LG's Helm Field in a battle that could all but decide the outcome of the WVAL title race.

A WIN FOR Los Gatos on Friday would just about wrap up the title for the Wildcats.

But a Don victory would send the league season into its final week with possibly three teams tied for the lead — Del Mar, Los Gatos and Camden.

The Dons set up their "title" battle with Los Gatos in a 21-12 victory over Branham last Friday afternoon on the Bruin field.

Del Mar hit the Bruins for three touchdowns in the first half and held on to post the victory despite a late gate Branham comeback.

Del Mar drove for a touchdown the first time it touched the football, thanks to a mishandled punt recovered by Dave Garcia at the Bruin 37.

Jeff Lane tossed 11 yards to Garcia and eight yards to Greg Gardieu to set up a nine yard run by Craig Idledt for the touchdown with 5:18 left in the period. George Rodriguez kicked the extra point.

Del Mar started a drive later in the first period that was capped by a second quarter touchdown run for the Dons by Todd Scolari.

Del Mar drove 65 yards on 10 plays to up its lead to 14-0, Scolari capping the drive with a one yard blast over right tackle with 10:33 left in the half. Rodriguez kicked his second extra point.

Lane tossed to Garcia for 16 and 22 yards and Clifon Warren for 10 yards, along with a nine yard run by Scolari, set up the touchdown.

THE DONS stopped Branham four yards short of a first down and forced the Bruins to punt, Warren returning the kick to the Branham 37.

Del Mar took off on an eight play, 63 yard drive for its third touchdown of the game.

A 27 yard Lane pitch to Tardieu and a 14 yard Lane aerial to Garcia set up a 14 yard Lane scoring toss to Rodriguez with 4:59 left in the half. Rodriguez made it 21-0 with his kick.

The Dons led 21-0 until the Bruins hit the scoreboard with 3:19 left in the third quarter.

Rodriguez missed a 40 yard field goal try in the fourth and Branham came right back to score again to cut the gap to just 21-12 with 3:29 left to play.

The Bruins pulled off an onsides kick and moved to within field goal range. But Branham had a high snap on its 30 yard field goal try and Mark Robertson dove on the football as Russ Reeves placed it down for the kick to give DM possession at the 20 with just 1:28 left to play.

The Dons worked down the clock before punting back to the Bruins. But Garcia iced the win on the final play of the game when he picked off a pass and ran out the clock.

The interception was one of two in the game for Garcia. The Don also recovered a fumble and caught six passes for 91 yards to complete an impressive performance.

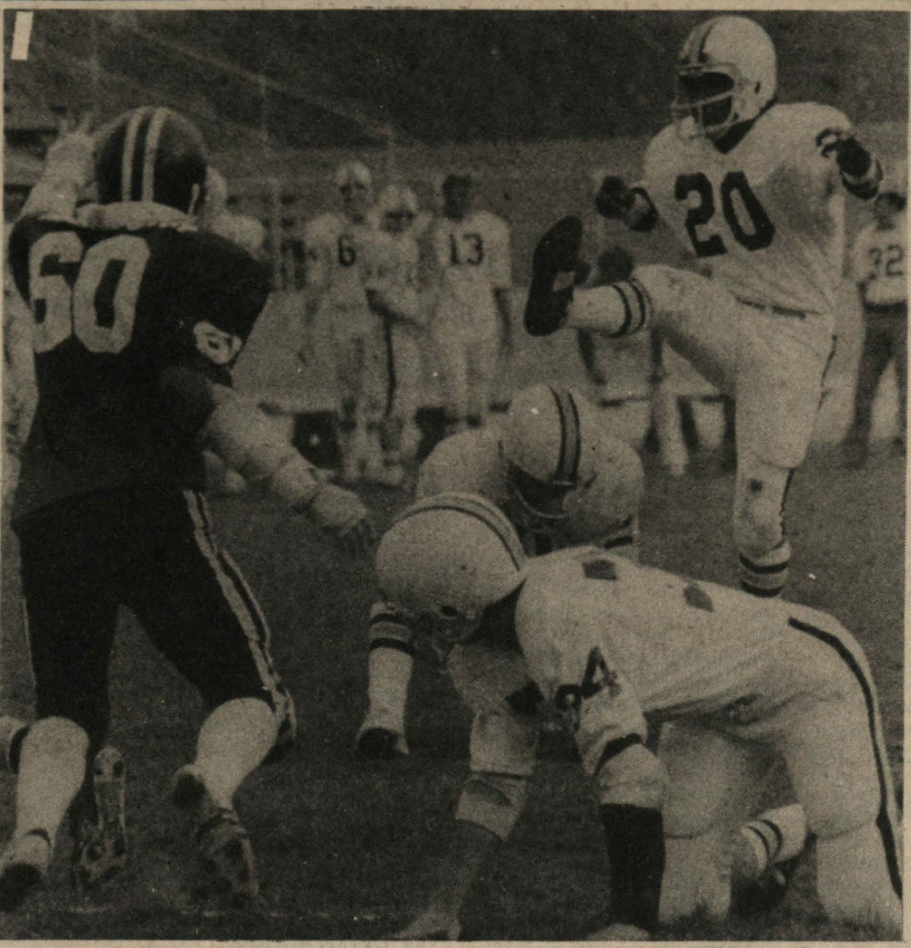
LANE WAS 12 for 19 for 182 yards and a touchdown in the victory for Del Mar through the air. Tardieu pulled down four tosses for 67 yards, Rodriguez caught one for 14 yards and Warren snagged one for 10 yards.

Idledt led the Don ground game with 32 yards on nine carries and Dave Hernandez added 17 yards on seven tries.

Larry Oreglia and John Callaway led the Dons defensively with six tackles each. Oreglia had one tackle in the Bruin backfield and deflected a pass.

Warren was in on five tackles, one for a loss of yardage, and batted away two passes for the Dons and Hernandez made three stops, one for a loss.

Tardieu, Bob Quadros, Shed Chandler, Robertson, Jim Slattery, Dave Venezio, Jessie Perez and Scott Evans were all in on key defensive plays for the Dons.



SPLITS UPRIGHTS — George Rodriguez of Del Mar splits the uprights with one of three extra point kicks last week in the Dons' 21-12 triumph over Branham. Rodriguez also scored a touchdown in the Del Mar win.

Vike fencers in action

THE WEST VALLEY College men's and women's fencing teams will entertain Napa and Monterey in intercollegiate action on Saturday, Nov. 19, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Viking gym.

It will mark West Valley's first bout of the year with Napa but it will be the second time this season that the Vikings and Monterey have slapped metal. West Valley's women handled Monterey 6-3 in that bout but the Viking men lost 5-4 to the team from the south.

Leslie Miller leads the Viking women into action and Bob Costick spearheads the attack for the WVC men.

Predictors on limb for second to last time

AN IMPRESSIVE 3-1 performance last week left the area high school football predictors at this paper with a strong 25-11 record heading into the second to last weekend of West Valley Athletic League play.

The only miss for the seers last week was a 21-12 victory for Del Mar over Branham, the predictors picking the Bruins to come up with the upset win.

But those Dons must be thinking about coming up with a share of that WVAL title this year the way they've been pulling out victories.

And Del Mar will get its chance to get right in the running for the crown this week when the Dons visit first place Los Gatos for an 8 p.m. game Friday at Helm field. We have to go with the first place Wildcats to win by eight.

Camden will try to keep its title hopes alive in a 2:45 p.m. game at Blackford on Friday. The Cougars should win that one by 12.

Leigh will be out to rebound from 12-0 loss to Camden when it visits Campbell for a 2:45 p.m. game Friday. But it looks like the Bucs have gotten themselves untracked and will walk off eight point winners over the Longhorns.

Rounding out the games Friday, Westmont will head to Branham for a 2:45 p.m. game and will fall by eight.

Panthers give Wildcats unexpectedly tough time

AS THE 1977 football season draws closer to its end, the Prospect Panther football team continues to improve and display an impressive amount of pride.

Although stuck in last place in the West Valley Athletic League and saddled with an 0-8-1 record for the season, the Panthers have refused to fold in the past two weeks and have instead come up with a pair of remarkable efforts.

Two weeks ago the Panthers battled heavily favored Campbell high school to a stunning 0-0 tie. And last week Earl Adams' club gave the league leading and unbeaten Los Gatos Wildcats a real fight before falling 22-8.

"This was probably our best team game of the year," said a pleased Adams. "The kids did a super job. They play with so much enthusiasm and spirit, it's amazing. Knowing that Los Gatos was undefeated didn't bother them a bit."

Los Gatos, which upped its WVAL record to 6-0 with the win, drove in for a touchdown on its first possession of the game, aided by four off sides penalties assessed against an anxious Panther defense.

But, surprisingly, that was all the normally high scoring Wildcats could manage against the Panthers in the first half.

Led by Brad Schultz, Tom Motike, Ken Hoyt, Tom Morgan, Mario Delgado, the Panthers shutdown the Los Gatos offense.

THE PANTHERS almost received a big break early in the game when they recovered a fumbled punt at the Los Gatos 12 yard line. But an inadvertent whistle by a referee nullified the play and the Panthers were forced to punt the ball again. This time the Wildcats returned the ball 15 yards to the 30.

"That was unfortunate," said Adams. "Instead of having the ball first and 10 at their 12, they had the ball at their 30. It might have been a different game if we had scored at that point."

The Wildcats managed to score a pair of touchdowns after halftime and held a comfortable 22-0 lead when Morgan put the Panthers on the scoreboard in the fourth period with a 12 yard touchdown run.

Morgan was brilliant in the loss for Prospect, toting the ball 14 times for 135 yards in addition to making nine tackles on defense.

Dave Angerole also played well for Prospect, lugging the ball 12 times for 76 yards.

Adams singled out Kevin Balsom, Stuart McCammon and Barry Boyajian for their blocking in the offensive line.

Delgado was a standout on defense along with Morgan, recording four tackles, including a pair of quarterback sacks and blocking a pass.

Prospect draws a bye this week before concluding its season Thanksgiving Day against the Branham Bruins at home in an 11 a.m. contest.

St. Lucy gridders notch perfect season in WVYL

THE ST. LUCY Trojans recently concluded an unbeaten season in the West Valley Youth flag football league by blanking St. Martin of San Jose 15-0.

The win was St. Lucy's sixth without a loss and earned the Trojans a berth in the South Peninsula play-offs, to be held in late November.

Pete Christian caught a pair of touchdown passes, one from Eric Gosell and another from Craig Long, to pace the Trojans to their win over St. Martin.

John Dok caused a safety to account for the remainder of St. Lucy's points.

The Trojans outscored their opponents 147-12 in their six league games and had four shut-outs.

Long and Eric Johnson led a potent ground attack for the Trojans while Gosell spearhead a fine air game by throwing to the likes of Christian, Dok and Pat Michael.

Tony Cary, John Pearl and John Winters keyed a strong offensive line while the Trojan defense was led by Cary, Dok, Christian and Joey McGee.

Hockey champs fall

WILLOW GLEN, co-champs in the Santa Teresa Athletic League, and Branham, champs of the West Valley Athletic League, each came up losers in the first round of the Central Coast Section field hockey play-offs.

Willow Glen lost its opener 1-0 to Monta Vista and Branham fell in its first game 1-0 to Hillsdale.

Branham had won the WVAL crown with a 7-0-1 record, wrapping up the league season with a 1-0 win over Los Gatos.

In WVAL volleyball activity, Blackford knocked off Branham 15-4, 15-7 in a regular season game.

Wotherspoon leads Viking girls to 2nd

ANN WOTHERSPOON went for a brisk three mile run last weekend in her orange and blue West Valley College cross country uniform.

And the Viking star covered that three miles briskly enough to pick up the Northern California individual title for her efforts!

Wotherspoon (Los Altos) crushed the old women's course record of 18:10 at Sierra College in Rocklin when she romped home in 17:02 to nail the NorCal title.

Kathy Perkins (Leigh) joined Wotherspoon in the top 10 for the Vikings with a fourth place finish for West Valley.

Rebecca McLean (Los Gatos) finished 15th with Zabelle Papargien (Saratoga) 16th and Colleen McManus (Blackford) 18th for the Vikings in the NorCal finals.

Buc back runs for 160 yards

Velasco leads Campbell to 54-24 rout of Braves

FOR PART of the 1977 football season, Carlos Velasco was on the sidelines for the Campbell Buccaneers — kept out of action with an injury.

But Velasco was back and running last Friday afternoon for the Bucs. And he and Fred Heidler performed well enough for Campbell to give Blackford coach Mike Spitzer nightmares!

Velasco carried 12 times for 160 yards and scored a pair of touchdowns, and Heidler carried 13 times for 82 yards and tallied three times to lead Campbell to a 54-24 victory over the Braves on the Buc field.

Velasco romped 16 yards for Campbell's first touchdown against the Braves and Heidler went 19 yards for a touchdown to lead the Buc ground show.

The two also picked off passes in the win for Campbell and returned them for scores. Velasco intercepted a Brave pass and went 27 yards for paydirt and Heidler pulled in a Blackford toss and rambled 18 yards for a score.

Dan Trinidad also came up with a good day for the Bucs, running for a touchdown and passing for two more.

TRINIDAD was three for four for 121 yards through the skies, hooking up for a pair of touchdowns. He was also intercepted once.

Trinidad ran 14 yards for a Campbell touchdown in the game and flipped a 24 yard scoring toss to Heidler. The Campbell quarterback also fired an 82 yard touchdown pass to Eric Harris. It was one of two catches for 97 yards in the game for Harris.

Harris scored Campbell's only other touchdown in the contest on a 15 yard run.

The win was just Campbell's second in league play and ran its West Valley Athletic League record to 2-3-1. The Braves are 1-6 in league competition.

Campbell will be at home on Friday to host Leigh in a 2:45 p.m. game and Blackford will be home on the same day at the same time to entertain Camden.

Leigh will enter the game on Friday with a 4-2 record. The Longhorns lost 12-0 to Camden last week to drop out of the WVAL title race Leigh is 5-3 on the season overall.

Campbell boasts a 3-4-1 overall record in 1977, whipping Lincoln but losing to Woodside in non-league action.

Heidler and Harris rank as the top Buc scorers on the season after eight games. Heidler has found the endzone eight times for touchdowns and once for a two point conversion. Harris has scored five TD's.

Trinidad has flipped five touchdown passes on the year for Campbell.

Warriors return to WVAL action against Branham

THE WESTMONT Warriors will be out to snap a road jinx Friday afternoon when they visit the Branham Bruins for a 2:45 p.m. contest.

The Warriors, who are 4-4 overall this season, have lost all four of their road games this year. On the other hand, Westmont is 4-0 at home.

Westmont, which drew a bye last week in league play, takes a 3-3 league record into Friday's battle with last year's WVAL champs.

Quarterback Scott Ruiz, receiver Marcel Adame and runningback Greg Athearn will try to improve upon their impressive statistics Friday at Branham.

Ruiz has completed 47 per cent of his passes this season (82 for 174) for 988 yards and eight touchdowns. He has been intercepted only five times.

Adame has been Ruiz' favorite target, latching on to 24 passes for 298 yards, an average of 12.4 yards a catch, and one touchdown.

Athearn, meanwhile, is Westmont's leading ground gainer. The Warrior back has rushed 115 times for 697 yards, an average of 6.1 yards a carry. His 68 points scored is tops on the team.

Linebacker Bill Stoffer has been the Warriors' top player on defense so far, having already erased the Westmont school record for most defensive points.

The Warrior coaching staff has a point system that awards five points for a major turnover (fumble recovery, interception or blocked kick), three points for a quarterback sack, two points for an unassisted tackle and one point for an assisted tackle.

Stoffer has recovered four fumbles, sacked a pair of quarterbacks, made 24 unassisted tackles and 125 assisted for 195 defensive points this season, wiping out the old record of 191 set by Mitch Vierra in 1970 and Bill Truan in 1975.

After Friday, the Warriors will prepare for their season finale against Leigh high school Thanksgiving Day at home.

Williams, Bush double winners at swim finals

BRANHAM'S Meredith Williams and Del Mar's Carol Bush were each double winners when the teams of the West Valley Athletic League got together for the Girls' 1977 swimming and diving championships.

Los Gatos, behind the performance of Kim Adams, finished first in the team standings with 280 points, finishing 20 points ahead of second place Del Mar.

Leigh was third at 121 with Westmont fourth at 111, Camden and Branham tied for fifth with 109 points each.

Adams won the 100 back at 1:06.7 and swam a leg on the winning 200 medley relay team to lead the Wilcats to the title at the WVAL finals.

Bush led the Dons to the second place finish at the finals with first place performances in the 200 free, clocked at 1:57.4, and the 100 free, at 54.5.

Valerie Young added a first in the 200 individual medley for Del Mar at 1:21.7. Bush and Young also were members of the first place Don 400 free relay team, Del Mar winning the event at 3:50.

Williams nailed wins in the 100 fly at 1:00.7 and the 500 free at 5:18.1 to pace the Branham showing in the meet. Jenny Barrett added a win in the diving event for the Bruins with 262.5 points and Lori Martin won the 50 free at 26.0 for Branham.

Vicki Rhodes led Camden to a tie for fifth in the team standings with Branham with her first place showing in the 100 breast at 1:15.9.

Los Gatos also wrapped up the team title on the frosh-soph level with 60½ points. Prospect was a close second at 58½ with Del Mar third at 44.

Del Mar won the league's dual meet title on the varsity level with a perfect 8-0 record, including a close 91-82 win over Los Gatos.

Bush was the star of the meet in the Don's win over the Wildcats, winning a pair of events with Central Coast Section best times. Bush won the 200 free at 1:56.9 and the 100 free at 53.8 and also was a member of the Don 400 free relay team that clocked a CCS season best at 3:47.6.

Eighth inning rally lifts Rainbows past San Jose

THE DEL Mar Rainbows exploded for five runs in the top of the eighth inning to break open a close game on the way to a 10-4 triumph over San Jose last Sunday in PAL Winter League baseball action at San Jose high school.

Jerry Miyahara led-off the Rainbows' big eighth inning uprising with a walk and moved to third on consecutive singles by Scott Levander and Craig Richesin.

After a wild pitch scored Miyahara, Dan McKay lashed a triple to left-center, scoring both Levander and Richesin.

Richesin and McKay both had three hits in the win for Del Mar. Included in Richesin's performance was a double and three runs scored.

Dorr chipped in with a pair of hits while Mike Greco and Levander each had one.

Jeff Blobaum picked up the win, his seventh in nine Winter League decisions this season. Blobaum hurled the first five innings, allowing just one run and two hits. He walked one and struck out nine.

JOHN Benevento tossed the final four innings to earn a save. He allowed three runs, four hits and a walk while fanning three.

Shawn Venenzia currently leads the Rainbows' in hitting this winter with a .480 batting mark. McKay is close behind at .455.

Others with high averages include Kevin Cesar (.344), Tom Bell (.321), Gary Cunningham (.308) and Blobaum (.286).

Last Friday Del Mar played a practice game against the Stanford University junior varsity at Stanford and wound up on the short end of a 14-1 decision.

The Rainbows' lone run came in the last inning when Cunningham, who had tripled, and Bell, who had walked, pulled off a double steal.

Del Mar's only other hits in the loss were collected by McKay, who doubled, and Venezia, who singled.

Bell hurled three strong innings of relief, retiring nine in a row after giving up a hit to the first man he faced.

The Rainbows, who are 11-5 in league play this season, travel to Gilroy Sunday for a doubleheader.

Walker home runs spark Clowns to easy victory

VINCENT WALKER belted two home runs to pace the Clowns to a 23-10 rout of the Moneychangers last week in Campbell winter league softball action.

Mike Areola rapped three doubles to also contribute heavily to the Clowns' romp. Harold Patton smacked a triple and both Freddie Walker and Brutus Leon added doubles.

Todd Walberg and Ken Gilson belted HR's for the losers.

Areola, in addition to his hitting, tossed the win for the Clowns, allowing just seven hits.

Barry Freeman hammered two home runs and Ron Bernier clubbed one to enable Atari to slip past Bearcat Construction 14-10.

Mike Okalove chipped in with a double and Rick Kaefer flipped the win, recording four strike outs.

The No Names pounded out 26 hits on the way to a 21-12 win over the Red Barons.

Harry Wibeto and Robin Wibeto spearheaded the No Names' attack with home runs.

H. Wibeto, Jean Rounds, Rick Stasi, Ken Herrera, Scott McNamara and Charlie Cruz all ripped doubles.

Randy Armer and Willie Lopez both blasted HR's for the Barons while Marc Salazar doubled twice. Pete Salazar and John Salazar both doubled.

Phil Rush tossed the win, scattering five walks and 13 hits.

Killroy toppled the New York Lifers 11-6 on the strength of home runs by Tom Hope and Herb Dallas.

Favored Vikes set for NorCal

EIGHT WATER-POLO teams will jump into the pool at San Joaquin Delta College this weekend to go after the Northern California junior college championship.

West Valley College's water-polo is the favorite going into the tournament, and for two good reasons. First of all, the Vikings are 21-0 on the year against junior college competition. And secondly, West Valley has already beaten just about every team in the NorCal field!

But the Vikings will have to do it again this weekend at Delta if they hope to walk away with the NorCal crown. West Valley enters the event as the Golden Gate Conference champ.

West Valley will open the NorCal tourney against the Coast Conference champion Cabrillo Seahawks on Friday at 9:30 a.m. The Vikings have already beaten Cabrillo once this season.

In other first round games Friday, De Anza will meet Marin, Modesto will battle San Mateo and the College of the Sequoias will face Delta.

The Vikings have beaten De Anza and Modesto two times each already in 1977 and Cabrillo, Sequoias and San Mateo once each.
